

Friday, March 26, 2004

THE COMMERCIAL APPEAL

SECTION C

BUSINESS

Dow Industrials
10,218.82
+170.59

Nasdaq
1,967.17
+57.69

S&P 500
1,109.19
+17.86

Russell 2000
571.53
+13.90

Cotton
May futures
64.20 -1.06

Soybeans
May futures
1,028.50 +5.00

Dollar
.8239 Euro -0.0004
106.04 Yen -0.06

JANE ROBERTS
Coffee Break

DeNeuville hosting job workshop

Most of the women who come to the DeNeuville Learning Center have a pretty good idea of what they need: help getting a GED or a job or perhaps simply direction in life.

That's where Lee Hecht Harrison comes in. It has donated the materials its associates use in "Nine Steps to Getting the Job You Want." Deborah Hester and Shelly Baur will offer the workshop from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday at the center, 840 Dickinson.

You must be registered with the center to participate.

Lee Hecht Harrison, a global leader in helping organizations and their employees deal with career transitions, has more than 180 offices around the world.